U.S. Business Much Improved, Ike Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told Republican state chairmen today that there are very clear indications business conditions are improving.

He also was reported to have told the state leaders at a breakfast meeting that he strongly believes in maintaining the nation's security and solvency.

Republican National Chairman Meade ALCORN, talking to reporters after the closed session at a downtown hotel, said the issue over Sherman Adams was not mentioned by either the President or the state chairmen.

Some of the party officials have been calling for the resignation of Adams, the President's chief aide, in the wake of disclosures of Adams' relations with Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

ALCORN said it was in answer to a query from one of the state chairmen that Eisenhower talked of indications of a business upswing.

The state leaders are here attending a three-day campaign school conducted by the GOP National Committee. Their sessions are closed to newsmen.

The President did not say whether he would take part in the coming campaign, ALCORN added.

About 42 of the state chairmen were present.

In addition to Eisenhower, speakers included Sen. Andrew Schoepel of Kansas, the Senate Republican campaign chairman; Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania, House GOP campaign chairman; and Charles Thomas, Republican national finance director.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise bill authorizing 1 1/2 billion dollars in new water projects was approved by the House yesterday. It is almost like one passed Tuesday by the Senate.

Both bills are a compromise with President Eisenhower who has vetoed two similar bills in the past two years.

A Senate-House conference committee will iron out the differences in the two authorization versions.

Immediately after passing the authorization bill the House took up a measure to appropriate slightly more than one billion dollars for public works, including water projects built by Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau.

The Arkansas projects in the House and Senate measures include:

Boeuf and Tensas Rivers, $1,212,000.

White River backwater project, $2,380,000.

St. Francis River Basin, $35,674,000.

White River Basin, 57 million dollars.

Millwood Reservoir system, $52,235,000.

Concerning the above measure, L. R. Matthias of the Red River Valley Association sent the following telegram today to George Peck, president of the Southwest Water District:

"House of Representatives has passed the revised Rivers and Harbors and Flood Control Omnibus bill with the senate passage yesterday (Tuesday). The bill now goes to the president. We also have been assured that he will sign this bill. Millwood and the six upstream reservoirs on Little River are included in the bill but Sherwood reservoir has been deleted. This legislation represents a tremendous step forward for the program on Red River."

(Editor's note: Actually there is a small difference in the Senate and House versions of the bill. But a committee is expected to have no difficulty ironing out the differences after which the measure goes to Eisenhower who has vetoed two similar bills in the past two years. However, there are good indications that the revised bill will be acceptable.)

Candidates to be Targets at McCaskill

The concessions committee for the McCaskill RCI Country Carnival has come up with a proposition, which while it may not thrill the Hempstead county candidates, may prove a big hit with the voters. It is proposed that the candidates lend their support to the Country Carnival by subjecting themselves to a ducking. The voters will do the ducking by buying three balls to be thrown at a target, which if hit will drop the candidate into a tub of water.

Before announcing this added attraction Arthur Wimmell, president of the McCaskill RCI, visited several of the candidates to obtain their reactions to such a proposal. Without an exception the candidates were willing to be good sports and thus help the McCaskill folks raise funds needed to repair their community center building.

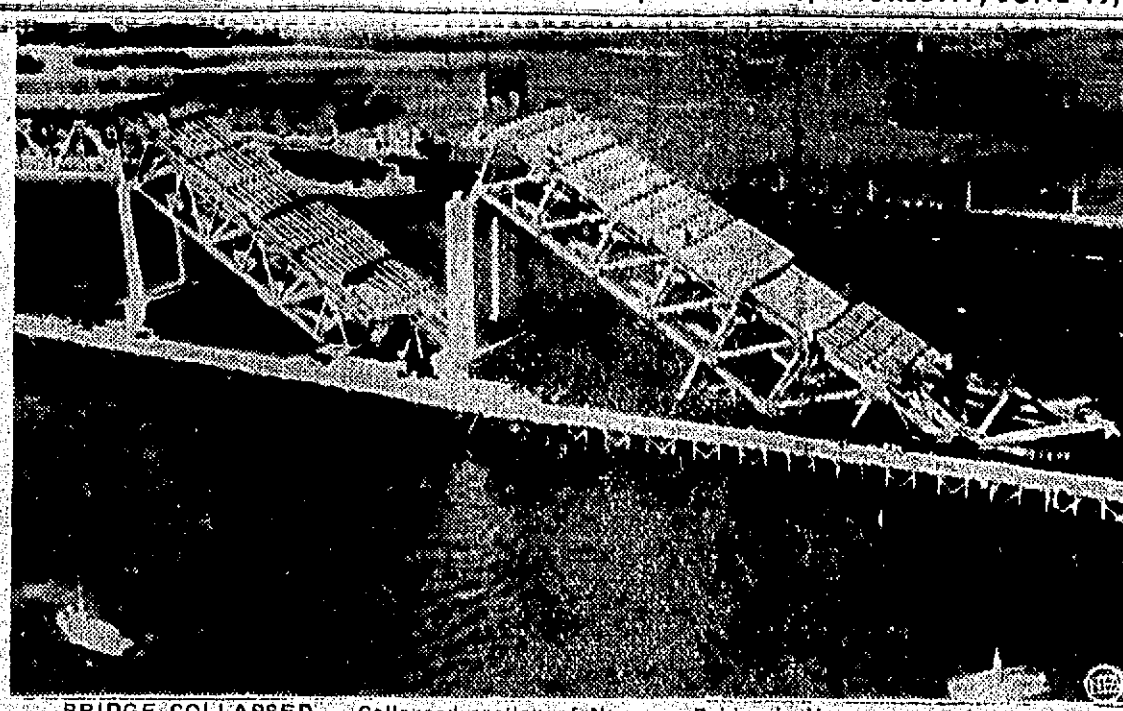

There are complications in carrying out the stunt as two of the candidates are ladies and two of the men are physically handicapped. One solution to the problem, as suggested by a court house wit, is for the two ladies to secure male substitutes and for Assessor Garrett Willis to be present by his attractive deputy.

Orrville Worham and John Denton Prescott of the McCaskill concessions committee, declare they are willing to excuse the four men from above and concentrate on the able-bodied males.

This event is scheduled to be the first attraction on Friday night's program starting at 7 o'clock. It will be followed by the radio quiz at 8 o'clock and the wrestling match at about 9:30.

Hempstead's Wildlife Association is preparing to entertain about 1,200 folks tonight at a "big fish fry" at Fair park.

Dominican Asks U.S. to Pull Out

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Stung by criticism in the American Congress of young Rafael Trujillo's playboy habits, the Dominican Congress has asked the government to pull out of all U.S. aid agreements.

Under one of the pacts the United States maintains a station in the Caribbean republic to teach its guided missiles.

The Dominican Congress, a rubber stamp for Dictator-Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo Sr., made no mention of the pact presents to Gen. Trujillo Jr. says to move against Zsa Zsa Gabor and Kim Novak.

Instead in its resolution Congress said it attacks that some U.S. congressmen have directed aid against the Dominican Republic in terms offensive to her national dignity would not have occurred if U.S. aid had not been accepted.

The resolution forwarded to President Hector Trujillo the generalissimo's brother, asked for an end to agreements providing U.S. military aid of $600,000 a year, technical assistance and cooperation in peaceful uses of atomic energy.

White River Project Up to Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whether a power project in the White River basin of northwestern Arkansas gets congressional approval this year rested today with a Senate-House Conference Committee.

This committee will iron out differences between the two branches in passing slightly different versions of a bill to authorize 1 1/2 billion dollars worth of water projects.

One of the points of difference was the proposed Lone Rock Dam and reservoir in northwestern Arkansas.

The House version provides authorization for inclusion of power facilities at Lone Rock. The Senate version doesn't.

Rep. James Trimble (D-Ark), chief sponsor of the Lone Rock project, said he has high hopes Lone Rock will be retained in the final version agreed on by the conferees.

The original bill which President Eisenhower vetoed earlier this year provided authorization for two White River basin projects in northwestern Arkansas. It added power to Lone Rock, which previously has been authorized for

Charges Man Kept Father a Prisoner

STAYTON, Ore. (AP)—Police Wednesday arrested a part-time preacher they said kept his 80-year-old father captive within an electric fence.

Sheriff's deputy Charles Thornton said Daniel George Cole, a husky 60-year-old, was taken into custody after police saw him kicking his elderly father. Cole was charged with assault and battery.

The father, skinny Eugene W. Cole, was taken to a hospital where his condition was described as fair.

Thornton said the elder Cole was kept captive in a triangular enclosure at the rear of his son's modest home.

Around the enclosure ran a two-strand electric fence that carried a stiff current, Thornton said. The old man lived in an old, filthy, 10-foot trailer house within the fence.

Deputies launched an investigation after reports a man had been heard screaming near the Cole house for several days.

Thornton and other deputies hid in bushes near the enclosure and saw the older Cole lying on the ground.

The son was kicking the old man, Thornton said, and pouring water on him. The arrest followed.

Thornton quoted the younger Cole as saying the treatment was necessary discipline to make his father take care of himself.

UN Committee on Hungary Meets Friday

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The U. N. Special Committee on Hungary will meet Friday to consider the situation arising out of the executions of former Premier Imre Nagy and others who held power in the 1956 uprising.

One possibility is a new condemnation of both the Soviet Union and the Soviet-dominated Hungarian regime of János Kadar.

Acting under growing pressure from the United States and other countries, E. Ronald Walker of Australia, acting chairman of the five-member committee, disclosed today he had called a meeting of the group for Friday morning.

Walker told newsmen Wednesday he was arranging a meeting and that one would be arranged as soon as practicable.

There was some talk that an emergency meeting of the United Nations General Assembly might be called later to act on the report which the Special Committee will draft.

Security Risks Favored by a Court Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled today that six civilian employees of the Army Signal Corps center at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., fired as security risks in 1954, are entitled to get their jobs back.

The unanimous decision of a three-judge panel said the Army failed to follow its own regulations in the manner in which the six were notified of their discharge.

Judge George T. Washington said the regulation required that the six be given the findings of the security hearing board.

But, Washington said, they merely were told that their continued employment would not be clearly consistent with the interests of national security and that their discharge was deemed necessary and advisable in the interest of national security.

The six, who won reinstatement and back pay estimated at about $100,000, were fired after sensational hearings into alleged subversive activities at the signal center. The inquiry was conducted by the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Twenty-five employees were suspended. Of these 17 were reinstated by the Army. The others eventually were dismissed, but all now have won reinstatement.

Today's ruling applied to Aaron H. Coleman, Harold Decker, Carl Greenblum, Bernice Levine, Melvin Morris and Hyam Garber Yermans.

They all held other scientific jobs or jobs rated as requiring clearance for access to secret material.

The appellate court's ruling reversed U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff who last November dismissed the complaint of the six.

Two Persons Die in Fire at Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—Firemen broke into a smoke-filled apartment in a small frame house today and found the bodies of a 92-year-old man and his wife.

Fire Chief C. T. Birmingham said Walter Wayne West and his wife, 60, apparently burned to death.

Firemen had to shove away the body of West in order to open a rear door of the apartment. The body of Mrs. West was found in a blazing bed.

Only the bed was burning, firemen said, although the apartment was filled with heavy smoke. Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

A telephone near the bed had been knocked off its hook and firemen theorized that one of the victims may have tried to call for help before being overcome.

Chief Birmingham said a neighbor reported seeing smoke pouring from the apartment about 3 a.m. The chief said another neighbor, Joe Hopper, who lives in the other side of the duplex building, told firemen he heard no sounds of struggle in the west apartment.

There was an unexplained report of a blaze being seen in the West apartment shortly before midnight last night, Birmingham said. He added that an empty dishpan was found beside the flaming bed and that the couple may have thrown water on an earlier fire if one occurred.

Truck Firm's Permit Canceled by ACC

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Commerce Commission yesterday canceled a truck company's permit to do business in this state and set a freight rate on ice transported by rail from Pine Bluff to Nashville.

The commission revoked the permit of Walker-Mathis Produce Co. of Springdale for not filing evidence that the firm had property damage and liability insurance.

The freight charge on ice was set at one cent a ton per mile for the 161 miles the Missouri Pacific railroad will transport ice for the Nashville peach harvest. The ice will be transported from Pine Bluff because the former source, an ice plant at Texarkana, was damaged by fire.

Ten Volunteer to Get Drunk

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ten men volunteered to get drunk Wednesday night and some did.

Dist. Atty. Edward C. Boyle put out a call for volunteers to test a machine designed to measure how much a man can drink before he's intoxicated. Boyle had no trouble lining up the volunteers.

He didn't reveal the effectiveness of the tests, but he said that after the happy volunteers had finished off a supply of beer and whisky all were sent home in taxicabs.

Arranged for Goldfine to Get Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frederick G. Payne (R-Maine) said today he arranged in early 1956 for an attorney for Bernard Goldfine to obtain information from the Securities Exchange Commission. He said the information was about the status of a case involving one of Goldfine's companies.

Gifts by Goldfine, a wealthy Boston textile manufacturer and financier, to Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, have come under investigation by a House committee inquiring into possible pressure on government regulatory agencies.

Payne told a reporter he did not recall which of Goldfine's companies was involved. He said that, as he remembers the case, it related to the failure of the company for several years to file reports required by the SEC.

He said an SEC lawyer told him the status of the case at a Capitol conference at which Sen. Norris Cotton (R-NH) was present at Payne's invitation.

Cotton told a reporter in a separate interview that as he recalled, the conference was in the office of Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH). Cotton said Bridges was not present.

GOP Leader Tells Ike to Think Carefully

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today there is a serious question whether Sherman Adams, his so-called "top aide," has hurt his usefulness in his position that it will be harmful to the broad policies of President Eisenhower.

The Senate GOP leader told a news conference the question is one which both Gov. Adams and the President must carefully weigh.

Knowland made his comment in response to a question as to whether he believed Adams, the No. 1 aide to the President, should remove himself from the government.

Knowland said he did not believe the acceptance of gifts by public officials was good public policy in the previous Democratic administration.

And, he said, he adheres to that position as to the present administration.

Knowland said it was a mistake in judgment and not good public policy for Adams to accept gifts from Bernard Goldfine, a Boston industrialist.

Asked whether he would propose a code of conduct for state officials if successful in his campaign for governor of California, Knowland said he believes public officials should not accept gifts of this kind, and that applies to both state and federal officials.

Among congressional Republicans generally, the prevailing attitude seemed to be one of bowing to Eisenhower's decision to keep Adams on the job although many made it plain they aren't happy about it.

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Oran Harris (D-Ark) said today his House investigations have come up with some "very interesting" new information from their first look at records of Bernard Goldfine.

Harris declined to say what the new information involves or how it will fit into his subcommittee's inquiry. That group is looking into whether Goldfine, a Boston industrialist and longtime friend of Sherman Adams, got favored treatment from the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

But Arkansas Democrat disputed White House contention that FTC rules were broken.

When Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, passed on to Goldfine a memo from the FTC chairman.

The memo, dated Jan. 4, 1954, dealt with an FTC move against what was alleged to be mislabeling of fabrics by a Goldfine textile firm.

Some of Goldfine's records were finally obtained by subpoena from Mildred Papernum, a bookkeeper for Goldfine, late Tuesday after a subcommittee struggle with Goldfine's lawyers. The investigators are checking the data before resuming hearings next week.

The records reflect, among other things, Goldfine's payments of hotel bills in Boston, New York and Plymouth, Mass. Adams has acknowledged staying at hotels in those cities at Goldfine's expense but denied he sought or obtained special treatment for Goldfine at the federal agencies.

Chancellor James H. Pilkinton addressed the women of Caddo District of the Arkansas Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution last Saturday, 14 June, at Hotel Barlow. He gave a vivid resume of Arkansas history, pinpointing the heritage we have in the Washington area.

David Person sang two numbers accompanied by Mrs. C.C. McNeill. After the benediction given by Mr. Talbot Field Jr., the guests visited Washington, seeing the Old Capitol Building, the Old Pioneer Cemetery where Revolutionary Soldiers are buried, and were received into the homes of Mrs. Luther Smith and Mrs. Mattie Wilson, where many documents, portraits and other items of historical interest were seen.

For the occasion, the home was decorated with arrangements of early summer blossoms placed at vantage points.

Several games were played, directed by Mrs. Jimmie Hollis. Tasteful refreshments were served to approximately fifteen friends. Many who could not attend, sent gifts.

Flower Hat Modeling By Little Garden Club Members

The Little Garden Club of Hope met Wednesday, June 11, at 8 a.m. in its last meeting of the year for breakfast at the Diamond Cafeteria.

The private dining room presented a very attractive appearance with arrangements of Magnolia leaves and blossoms and a table centerpiece of fragrant gardenias.

As is the custom of the club at this meeting each member wore a hat of her own making fashioned from flowers. After Miss Mable Elbridge gave thanks, Mrs. Herbert Stephens, one of the hostesses, welcomed each member and the guests, Mrs. J. C. Carlton and Mrs. C. V. Nuhn, Jr.

Following the delicious breakfast a short business meeting was held after which the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Carlton and Mrs. Nuhn, who judged the flower hats. Each member modeled her hat and gave a description of it. First prize went to Mrs. A. C. Ball, whose hat was made of daisies, with each petal pulled from the flower and overlapping on a sailor form. It was completed by a band made of foliage blade, ending in a bow in front.

Second prize went to Mrs. Jim Cole, whose hat was made of shredded cocoon, dyed with food coloring and glued on to a sailor form. Underneath the brim was a trim of gardenias, and the hat band was a gladiolus blade.

Mr. Pod Rogers made group and individual pictures during the modeling.

Other hostesses were Mrs. Herbert Stephens, Mrs. Harold Stephens, Mrs. W. E. Trotter and Mrs. N. P. Nesbitt.

Miss Janelle Yocom, Bride-Elect of Caddo County, and formerly of Hope, was honored with a Miscellaneous Birthday Shower in the home of Mrs. Ira Yocom on Saturday evening June 7, at 8 o'clock. Goldfine listed as a business expense the more than $1,600 in bills run up by Adams there.

Goldfine was quoted by the Boston Record as announcing his willingness to come before the subcommittee and tell all he knows.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Republicans bowed today to President Eisenhower's decision to keep Sherman Adams on the job. But many GOP members made it plain they aren't happy about it.

Republican state chairmen split over the question of Eisenhower's top aide. Some still insisted he should get out. Others supported Eisenhower's backing him. Many declined comment but could agree with one of their number, Ray Bliss of Ohio, who said "I'm certain I rather it hadn't happened."

In New York, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler left no doubt the Democrats will make a major political issue out of Adams' dealings with industrialist Bernard Goldfine of Boston. As to Eisenhower's insistence on keeping Adams as his chief assistant, Butler added: "The President's own conduct makes him as morally responsible for this improper conduct as Mr. Adams is himself."

Flood control, and would have authorized Gilbert for flood control and power.

Eisenhower objected strenuously to the two projects, contending that Army Engineer studies showed they were not economically justified.

Trumble contended they were justified by Army Engineers a few years ago before Republicans took over and changed the rules governing the criteria set up for determining economic justification of a project. He said the Republicans had changed the rules in the middle of the game.

However, in compromises worked out between Congressional leaders and administration representatives, the Arkansas projects lost ground.

A Senate compromise bill omitted the two projects entirely and this bill passed the Senate Tuesday.

A second House compromise, passed by the House yesterday, amends a previous authorization for the White River basin. It said the basin plan should be altered to provide that "penstocks or other facilities, to provide for future power installations, shall be provided in the Lone Rock reservoir."

If the House view prevails, that provision will be in the language sent the President. If the Senate version is accepted, Lone Rock power is out.

In any event, Gilbert is out of the bill for this year.

Mrs. Al Williams as associate hostesses.

A short business meeting was conducted, and in a most charming manner, Mrs. Vic Henderson entertained with a poetic interpretation, "The Fog".

iced drinks, cookies and salted nuts were served to 18 members and a guest, Mrs. J. R. Bond of Coffeyville, Kansas, mother of Mrs. Eugene White.

Baker Home Demonstration Club Meeting.

The Baker Home Demonstration Club met June 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Basterling. Due to the absence of the president, Mrs. Woodrow Baker, the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Merline Cox.

The American Creed was repeated by the group and the devotional, "Prayers of Praise" taken from Psalm 113 was given by Mrs. Basterling. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Roll call was answered by each member. "Why I think every citizen should vote."

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. T. B. Fenwick, the reading of the minutes were omitted. Mrs. Orville Steadman, Health and Safety officers, gave an interesting discussion on "Health."

The hostess served refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and iced drinks to seven members, two guests, Miss Sharrice Cox and Jackie Basterling.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Dale Tannemaker on Thursday July 10th.

More Burning on Island of Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Another Greek property was burned today and the British government again blamed Turkish Cypriots on posing union of the island colony with Greece.

The blaze in the Greek-owned Pallas movie house was the fourth fire attack on Greek holdings in Nicosia in 21 hours. Damage to the movie house was estimated at 1,000 pounds ($2,800).

So far, however, there was no resumption of the Turkish riot attacks last week in which 15 Greeks and 2 Turks were killed.

Britain Tuesday postponed announcement of her new plan for the future of Cyprus until Thursday at the request of the North Atlantic Council.

Prime Minister Macmillan told the House of Commons in London that the NATO group had requested the delay "to see what help they can give in the work of conciliation."

UN May Inquire Into Execution of Nagy

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Ailing Andersen, Danish chairman of the U.N. Committee on Hungary, said today he is consulting other members about holding a special meeting to consider the situation resulting from execution of Imre Nagy.

Anna Kethley, a member of Nagy's 1956 Hungarian government, cabled Andersen requesting a special meeting. She escaped from Hungary when Soviet troops crushed the Hungarian revolt.

Andersen said the committee might meet to gather information on the trial leading to the execution of Nagy. Gen. Pal Malotk and other Nagy aides. The committee, created by the U.N. General Assembly, questioned many Hungarian witnesses after the 1956 revolt. In a report to the assembly it condemned the use of Soviet troops in crushing the rebellion.

NOT SPRINGS, ARK. (AP)—Olin Teague filed suit yesterday seeking $2,747 damages from Maplecrest Hatching Inc., which operated an incubation department near an apartment house formerly owned by Teague. The plaintiff said in the circuit court suit that the unpleasant odor from the chicken hatchery had ruined his apartment business and forced him to sell the building.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A portion of northwest Arkansas was under a 5-hour tornado and severe weather warning yesterday. The weather Bureau lifted the warning at 5 p.m. and reported that no damaging storms occurred during the period although a few points were pelted by hard rains and wind.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee yesterday approved a military construction authorization bill which included $1,654,000 for the Blytheville, Ark., Air Force Base and $4,485,000 for the Little Rock Air Force Base. Separate legislation will be required to appropriate money to finance the proposed construction.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Migratory Bird Conservation Commission yesterday authorized acquisition of 1,317 acres for the Big Lake refuge in Mississippi County, Ark.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—George V. Allen, chief of the U.S. Information Agency, arrived today to investigate a report to President Eisenhower by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) concerning the U.S. World Fair pavilion. The report said a painting of a woman nude to the waist was exhibited, that the painting section was of the "Grandma Moses type" and that a pool was covered with scum.

STURDEON BAY, Wis. (AP)—Primmer Clarence Deater, member of a jury locked up while hearing a murder trial here, got a message from the outside despite the presiding judge's warning against such communications. He got it from the judge himself.

In the presence of this entire court, Judge Arnold Murphy said at day's end Wednesday, "I want to give a message to Mr. Deater: The cow that was ill is better."

Giel Can Make Giants Real Contenders

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Paul Giel is the pitcher who can make the San Francisco Giants a real pennant contender."

That's what Giant manager Bill Rigney said Wednesday night after his club nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 in 10 innings.

The victory left the Giants two games back of the league-leading Milwaukee.

Rigney, who had benched Willie Mays and drastically shaken up his lineup, held court in the dressing room while Giel accepted congratulations for his four-hit victory.

Giel now has a 1-1 record since his recent recall from Phoenix. The victory was his first in the majors since a two-year tour of Army duty. A former All-American football player at Minnesota, he passed up a pro football career to go with the Giants for a sizable bonus.

At one stretch Giel retired 10 Pirates in order. He was not around at the finish, however, and he was a little disappointed. Rigney called upon veteran right-hander Marv Grissom after Giel had given a leadoff single to Bill Mazeroski in the 10th and had a two-ball and no-strike count on pinchhitter Dick Schofield. Grissom got Schofield on a foul, struck out pinchhitter Johnny Powers and forced Bill Virdon to ground out.

"Naturally, I wanted to finish the game but Rigney is running the ball club and he knows more about baseball than I do," Giel declared. "Grissom is a great pitcher."

Queen's Tennis Tourney Is Very Jittery

LONDON (AP) — The Queen's Club Tennis Tournament today is as full of jitters as a bride on the eve of her wedding.

With only three days to go before the 63rd Wimbledon championships open, this is the position:

Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, is worried after getting himself beat at Queen's by one Rod Laver — an Australian almost unknown. MacKay happens to be the only American seeded in the Wimbledon men's division.

Althea Gibson of New York is worried after being upset in the Wimbledon Cup by the 17-year-old English girl Christine Truman — or she ought to be.

Ashley Cooper, Australian No. 1 and Wimbledon favorite, is worried by a torn thigh muscle which forced him to withdraw from the Queen's tournament.

Then there's Margaret DuPont from Wilmington, Del., winner of the Wimbledon singles title in 1947, now playing at Queen's and Wimbledon for the first time since 1954.

Mrs. DuPont has crowded right through to the last eight of the Queen's women's singles. She won Wednesday 6-0 6-0 against Australia's Margaret Court — another worried girl of 21.

"Sure, the poor girl never got started," said Mrs. DuPont charitably.

Does Mrs. DuPont think the other players worry too much?

"Well, like I say," she said, "it doesn't do any harm to relax sometimes."

The first Hoe cylinder press was brought to Arkansas for the Fort Smith Times in 1858 by John F. Wheeler and three years later, Wheeler and his partner launched a Fort Smith daily, the Times and Herald. Shortly before, the True Democrat in Little Rock had become the first daily newspaper in the state.

Recovery of Metals May Help Business

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Much of the better feeling about business prospects today is based on an apparent recovery in the hard hit metals industries.

Many expect the trend to be reversed next month, at least for the time being, and look for no sure sign that the recovery is real instead of artificial until after Labor Day.

The present situation has a brighter glow, however, than some of the metals industries have known for months.

Steel mills in eight weeks have pulled production up from less than half of capacity to nearly two thirds of potential output.

Copper prices have steadied and then advanced, here and in London, after a two year slide.

Aluminum, zinc and lead producers have urged the government to give them the same helping hand that steadied the copper industry.

Some think they'll get it, namely, government purchases for the strategic defense stockpile.

Since the metals industries are basic to the economy their recent flush of better health has given a sprightlier tone to business thinking.

This is so in spite of some skeptics who suspect the flush won't last and even point out some artificial aspects of it.

The steady climb of steel production out of its recession low point is largely instrumental in reversing the long slide in the total industrial production index.

Observers note that the steel companies have been in no haste to tote much iron ore down the Great Lakes this spring and that the demand for steel scrap has been so quiet that its price is far below last year's level.

Copper men have watched the price of the metal slide from 46 cents a pound early in 1956 to 25 cents this January, as demand fell off and stocks mounted.

Wide-spread cutbacks in production here and abroad gave copper a healthier tone but demand hasn't revived, copper men say.

Uncle Sam has come to the rescue. Congress is considering a proposal for the strategic stockpile to buy up to 150,000 tons of copper at the market price, up to 27 cents a pound, for the stockpile.

The copper industry is looking for some tariff relief soon, too. July 1, barring action otherwise by Congress, the suspended tariff will be restored. At the current market price in the 25 to 26 cents range the tariff amounts to 1.7 cents a pound, enough to block off some foreign metal, at the higher prices recently set abroad.

Civil Defense Gets Emergency Aid

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Civil Defense Agency got $1,086 from Gov. Orval Faubus' emergency fund yesterday to use in its flood damage aid program.

The money was to pay the salaries of two clerk-typists and office expenses connected with making application for federal aid recently made available.

The grant left $50,397 in the fund. The 1957 Legislature appropriated $100,000 for the fund for two years ending June 30, 1959.

Labor Bill to Hit Trouble in the House

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—A broad labor control bill on which the Senate spent five long days headed today toward a lukewarm reception in the House.

The Senate passed the measure 88-1 Tuesday night.

House leaders privately gave the bill little chance of passage.

These sources said the House may well pass a union pension and welfare disclosure bill which cleared the Senate in April, but that this would be the extent of action in the labor field this year.

However, Rep. Carl D. Perkins (D-Ky.), chairman of the House Labor subcommittee, noted he already is going ahead with hearings on a general bill, and declared, "We are going to proceed diligently."

The Senate wrangled through three 12-hour days and an 11-hour session, and needed another seven hours to complete action on the final day.

But members then praised their handiwork.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) hailed the measure as "one of the important landmarks of this Congress" and "a bill with which honorable men can live."

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), chief author and floor manager, called the bill "an effective weapon in the hands of responsible leaders, honest members and the federal government in driving the racketeers and mobsters out of the labor movement."

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) chairman of the Rackets Committee, also helped the sponsors with his plan not to lead the bill down with amendments which might kill it. But McClellan conceded he was dissatisfied with parts of the measure.

Enough to Build 96 B-52's

Helping Lighten the Load

The Brewing Industry ranks fifth as a payer of excise taxes. In 1956, the Brewers paid in Federal Taxes $767,817,000. In addition, they paid State Governments over $200-million. The Brewing Industry's total tax bill is nearly $1-BILLION annually... an impressive contribution to the nation's economy... and a great contribution to the nation's safety, because that amount paid to the Federal Government in 1956 would build 96 B-52 jet bombers.

Newcombe Finds Form in Turning Back the Cards

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Newk still can hum that pea.

The winless Don Newcombe, whom the Los Angeles Dodgers gave up on last Sunday, became a winner again Wednesday night for Cincinnati, strutting off a first inning home run by Stan Musial and blanking St. Louis on five hits the rest of the way for a 6-1 victory.

It was Newk's first start for the Redlegs, who climbed back into third place in the National League with the big right-hander's first victory in seven decisions.

It was a night for good pitching in the NL. Second place San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 2-1 in 10 innings on the four-hit pitching of young Paul Giel and the clutch relief of veteran Merv Grissom. Rookie Stan Williams gained his second major league victory and shutout with a four-hitter as Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia 3-0.

Rain idled Milwaukee and the Chicago Cubs, with the Braves leading 1-0 in the second inning. That cut Milwaukee's lead over San Francisco to two games.

In the American League, the New York Yankees defeated Cleveland 3-2, Boston smacked the Chicago White Sox 13-0 and Baltimore spilled Kansas City 5-

Fishing Around Arkansas Lakes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Here is a fishing forecast by the state Game and Fish Commission:

NORFOLK LAKE: Catfish fair on minnows and crickets. Blue gill and bream fair on minnows and crickets. Black bass fair on deep running and artificial bait.

NIMROD LAKE: Crappie and black bass fairly good on minnows and artificial bait; bream good on worms. Water has risen 10 inches and is clear.

WHITE RIVER near De Valls Bluff: 19.6 feet. Water clear to gill. Bass and crappie good on artificial bait and minnows; bream good on worms, channel cat good on worms.

The Redlegs, now 4 1/2 games behind after leap-frogging the Cards and Pirates, gave Newk a tie in the first when Gus Bell's fifth homer matched Musial's 12th. They won it with two in the third off loser Larry Jackson (5-3) on Alex Grammas' single, a triple by Jerry Lynch and a single by George Crowe. Newk's single closed the scoring in the seventh.

The Giants, beneath the slumping Willie Mays, made it on singles by Bob Schmidt and Willie Lockman that sandwiched a walk by Bob Friend, who had pitched shut out ball after giving up a first inning run on a balk.

Giel, 25, whose only other decision was a 2-1 loss to Pittsburgh last week, gave up three singles and the tying run in the third Wednesday night. Then he blanked

Casey Finding Pitching Staff Not So Weak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Poor old Casey Stengel. His New York Yankee pitching staff was so thin he had to get some help with a trade. So what happened?

Southpaw Whitey Ford spun a three-hit shutout at Cleveland Tuesday. Then Casey hailed Art Ditmar out of the bullpen Wednesday night and the right-hander pitched a no-hitter for 4 1/3 innings in his first start before getting reliever Ryne Duren's help for a 3-2 success over the Indians.

All of which leaves Duke Maas and Virgil Trucks, picked up in a deal with Kansas City, and Zalk Monroe, resented from Denver, still sitting on their pineapples.

Second place Boston, eight games back, blasted a 30-inning shutout string by Chicago pitching, hammering five home runs in a 13-0 victory over the White Sox. Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-3. Detroit and Washington were tied by rain, but the Tigers moved into a third place tie with Kansas City.

In the National League, Don Newcombe gained his first victory of the season in his first appearance as a Cincinnati pitcher, defeating St. Louis 6-1. San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 2-1 in 10 innings. Los Angeles beat Philadelphia 3-0. Milwaukee and the Chicago Cubs were stopped by rain.

Ditmar was breezing with a 3-0 lead, on first-inning homers by Hank Bauer and Elston Howard. Then on error and angles by Minnie Minoso and Mickey Vernon cracked his no-hit spell and scored two unearned runs in the sixth. When he gave up a double by loser Jim Muesel, Grant in the seventh, Casey brought in Duren. The rookie right-hander fanned two in a hitless 2 1/3 innings of relief.

Muesel (5-4) allowed only six hits, blanking the Yankees the last eight innings. A walk came ahead of the clinching home run by Howard, who was behind the plate instead of Yogi Berra, who had an eye test in effort to explain his 2-1 average.

Young Milt Pappas (4-1) gave up only five hits and two runs in his seven innings and produced the lead run with a double for the Orioles. A two-run homer by Gus Triandos, his 14th, triggered a three-run Baltimore sixth, junking Murrey Dickson's shut out bid. Dickson now is 5-3.

Mary Kay McGowan, hitting his first in the majors, Don Buddin, Jackie Jensen, Ted Williams and Frank Malzone homered for the Red Sox, with Jensen's tying Bob Cerv of the A's for the AL lead at 17. Williams and Malzone homered in a six-run eighth off losing reliever Gerry Staley (1-5) that overhauled an 8-7 Chicago lead.

McElroy Urges Adoption of Revision Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy, urging adoption of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan, says some provisions of a House-passed bill would hurt rather than help Pentagon streamlining.

Armed Services Committee, McElroy criticized particularly a House provision restricting the power Eisenhower asked to transfer, reassign, abolish or consolidate functions established by law.

Under the bill passed by the House last week, the secretary or chief of staff of the Army, Navy or Air Force may appeal to Congress an order abolishing combatant functions. Congress could reverse the order without possibility of a White House veto.

McElroy told the committee this would amount to "an effective military veto over civilian authority, instead of clarifying and enhancing civilian control."

He contended that missiles and other new weapons systems may make changes in functions necessary without delays that could result from appeals to Congress.

During House debate on the bill, advocates of that provision argued that vesting sole power in the defense secretary without congressional appeal might result in scrapping of the Marines or the Navy Air Force.

This same attitude was reflected in questioning by Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) and other members of the Armed Services Committee who indicated they are unwilling to "abandon congressional control and review of the roles and missions of the armed services."

McElroy also called for elimination of two other provisions—one requiring the defense secretary to

THE STORY: In St. Paul, Tom Rosser, a former Kansas marshal, makes an enemy of Guy Tavenner, a gambler. Tavenner's wife Susan reminds Rosser of his former sweetheart Carol Graham who was killed by a bullet meant for Rosser.

CHAPTER IV

The Tavenners occupied the most expensive suite in the hotel, an elaborately furnished sitting room with a connecting bedroom, which contained a four-poster bed. That he had never paid a dollar of the rent did not worry Guy Tavenner. He was used to such things, just as he was accustomed to throwing money about in regal fashion, when he had it. Which was not too often.

He was pacing the carpeted floor of the sitting room, when Susan Tavenner entered, after the longest walk she had ever taken in a dark, strange city.

Tavenner exclaimed hotly when he saw his wife, "Where have you been? I need some money."

"I have no more money to give you."

"I'll give it back to you. I've already sent a wire to my partner in Great Plains. He's sending me five hundred. Enough to pay all our bills and to get us there."

Susan shook her head. "I'm sorry, Guy. I can't give it to you. I couldn't if I wanted to and I don't."

Guy Tavenner strode toward Susan. The latter, half expecting him to strike her, threw up her hands. One held her handbag and Tavenner snatched it from her. He whisked it open, plunged a hand inside. He came upon a thin packet of bills and began to count them.

"Thirty-eight dollars . . . this is all you've got?"

Red Court Sentences Five Bulgarians

VIENNA (AP)—A Communist court in Sofia has sentenced five Bulgarians to prison terms of 1 to 15 years for alleged espionage for American and Turkish intelligence services.

Sofia radio said the defendants were criminal and depraved elements. It said two were trained as spies in Istanbul.

administer the services through their civilian secretaries and the other permitting any service secretary or military chief to take any service problem directly to Congress.

"You — you can't take it from me . . . you can't!"

Tavenner thrust the money into his pocket and tossed her handbag to a nearby chair. "Don't wait up for me."

Tavenner whipped open the door and went out.

A sob wracked Susan Tavenner and she slumped to the chair where he had flung her purse.

This was the end. She had fought against it, but she knew now that she could go on no longer. The last few dollars he had taken from her did not matter. She had already reconciled herself to losing all of the money with which she had left home six weeks ago.

Her relationship with Guy had come to the cataclysmic finale. Seven weeks ago she had not even known him. She had lived a quiet life in the little Indiana town. She had attended her church on Sundays and the Welfare Meetings on Wednesday evenings.

She even had a suitor. Lester Cahill, a balding man, just under 30, who worked in the bank. Eventually he would become cashier of the bank. Not exciting, but well regarded by everyone.

They had never become formally engaged, although there was talk of marriage. Lester paid regular attendance upon her and it was taken for granted among their friends that Susan would become Mrs. Cahill. In her own mind, Susan had not resisted the idea.

Not until Guy Tavenner appeared in the village. She had seen him sitting on the veranda of the hotel one evening, as she passed with Lester on the way to the Wednesday-night meeting at the church. On the way home the swarthy stranger was still on the hotel veranda and the following day he had accosted her on the street.

She should have ignored him, of course, but he was extraordinarily handsome. He knew her name and said that he had called upon her father at the store, that morning.

He was a drummer, he said. She knew about drummers. She had been told about them ever since she had pinned up her pig-tails. A girl did not talk to drummers.

Guy Tavenner was not easily discouraged. He had to stay in town two days more, to await some important orders from his home office, in Chicago. The country side was beautiful and he suggested a drive in the country.

The next day she drew her $500 from the bank and took the train to Chicago. With Guy Tavenner.

They were married in Chicago. They lived at the Palmer House, which was reputed to have a barbershop that had a floor inlaid with silver dollars. They left the hotel late at night and in the hansom that took them to the railroad depot, Tavenner borrowed a hundred dollars from her, which he promised to repay in St. Louis.

In St. Louis they lived hand-somely for two weeks, when they again left the hotel at night and boarded a boat that eventually brought them to St. Paul. Susan again gave her husband money to pay their passage.

They were going to Montana. Tavenner told her. He had met a man in St. Louis with whom he was going into business. A new country, a new run of luck.

She had written to her father and mother from Chicago. They were living in a magnificent hotel and would soon move into their own home. Guy was a man of substance. He was known to many important people.

All of those things Susan wrote to her parents, because Guy had told them to her. She could not tell them what she had learned. That they had been compelled to flee Chicago, because of her husband's gambling debts. She could not tell them that she was the wife of a professional gambler.

TELEPHONE TALK

By Vance Smiley, Wire Chief, Hope, Ark.

NEW CITIZENS

Since expanding our toll operations, the first of this year, we have had to add some additional operators. I am listing below their names and the towns that they transferred from:

Mrs. Jenny S. Smith, Shreveport, La.
Mrs. Mary Ann Avery, Arkadelphia, Ark.
Carleen Campbell, Magnolia, Ark.
LaWayne Phillips, Magnolia, Ark.
Sue Baird, Magnolia, Ark.
Carolyn McWilliams, Camden, Ark.
Mary Jo Ross, Longview, Texas

These employees had already received their training and were able to move right in and to assume a full work load.

We, at the office were glad to welcome these young ladies as co-workers and new citizens and we know you will too.

FOR PARENTS ONLY

Now that summer is here and the children are out of school, I imagine the family's telephone service is getting an extra-good workout.

I guess teenagers, and even the smaller fry, need the telephone more often during vacation months. They use it to line-up sandlot ball games, swimming parties, movie dates, and a good many other things, as we all know.

It would be hard to find a better time than now to order an extension telephone. Put it in a room where it will be handy for the youngsters. They'll enjoy the privacy and so will you. Best of all, you'll save yourself no telling how many dishes to answer incoming calls that always seem to be for them.

To order an extension, just call the telephone business office. The cost is only $1.00 a month plus tax and installation.

GET TOGETHER TIME

Everybody has his own ideas about what to do on weekends. Some of us like to go visiting, or take the family on an outing. And I guess most of us share the popular custom of getting outdoors and having a few friends over for a barbecue supper. But no matter what we do or where we do it, the weekends seem to be a natural get-together time.

This coming weekend, while you're in a get-together mood, why not pick up the telephone and call someone who's too far away to visit or have over? Long Distance calling is a wonderful, personal way to get together with people you really care about . . . and miss seeing. And it's such a pleasant way to keep in touch regularly.

Make Long Distance calling a weekend custom at your house. Rates are lower evenings after 7 p.m. and all day Sunday.

Call by number. It's twice as soon.
